San Joaquin Officers Held On Bribery Charges

EXPOSE HITS SUPERVISOR AND SHERIFF

STOCKTON, June 27.—(U.P.)—Bribery charges were filed against William H. Reicks, sheriff of San Joaquin county, and James Coates, chairman of the county board of supervisors, following their arrest here today by Guard C. Darrah, district attorney.

The men were arrested in the office of V. E. Fontaine, detective posing as a "rum runner," and were asserted to have received $2000 in marked bills from Fontaine.

Darrah said the arrest had been witnessed by the Rev. Ward Long, the Rev. Hugh V. White and Arthur Roberts, business man.

Reicks was released on $5000 bail but Coates was still in custody late today.

A special session of the grand jury has been called for tomorrow.

Settlement Of El Dorado Oil Company Problem Is Sought By Local Chamber

Speeding up street work and spur track development to the Ford plant site, improving or paving between the car tracks on Twenty-third street in front of the new Richmond High school, a concentrated effort to settle all problems connected with the definite location of the El Dorado Oil works on the West side of the inner harbor—these were some of the problems that came before the directors of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, meeting at noon yesterday at the Hotel Carquinez.

Conditions Favorable
Fred D. Parr, president of the Parr-Richmond Terminal corporation, just returned from an extended trip throughout the East brought definite word from the Ford factory that all conditions remaining as they are, with the Ford output reaching normal capacity in the fall, that the motor magnate would turn to the development of the Richmond project early next spring.

Aid Channel Project
With General Edgar Jadwin of the U. S. Army engineers recommending 30 feet of water in the channels and turning basins in Richmond harbor with an over-dredge of 3 feet, giving the harbor 33 feet of water, with the possibility that the channel may be widened to 850 feet as against the present approved project of 400 feet, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, have definitely interested themselves in aiding the mayor and city council in reaching an understanding with the El Dorado Oil company which has purchased a site of ten acres and is planning a $750,000 investment on the West side of the inner harbor.

PLEDGE SUPPORT
At the meeting yesterday the board pledged itself to interest itself in the project and to do what it could to bring about an immediate understanding as to the part the government, the city and the El Dorado Oil company will take in determining upon harbor improvements affecting the big copra grinding plant.

Seventeen of the 21 directors attended the meeting yesterday.

Defendants In Libel Suit To Be Served Today

MARTINEZ, June 27.—Mayor Phil A. Lee of El Cerrito, and Miss Grace Moses, Berkeley accountant, will probably receive official notification tomorrow of a $25,000 libel suit filed against them by W. A. Hinds, former police judge of El Cerrito. This was intimated today by Attorney T. D. Johnston, counsel for Hinds. The suit also designates an unnamed publishing company, articles in which are said to form basis for the suit.

Hinds' action grows out of an audit made by Miss Moses, who reported to the El Cerrito council that the books of the former police judge failed to account for more than $700.

An audit made by Hinds purported to show that only $5 had been unaccounted for. Hinds offered a check for $5 to the El Cerrito council but no official acceptance was forthcoming.

GOES UNDER KNIFE

William Rook of 737 Ninth street, an employee of the Certainated corporation, is in the Lane hospital in San Francisco where he will undergo an operation today.

Joe Hackly of Richmond, was committed to the state hospital at Ukiah by Superior Judge H. V. Alvarado, for alleged inebriety.

NEED OF CHEAP WATER RATE IS TOLD BY PARR

Those present were: P. M. Sanford, president; J. F. Brooks, H. A. Johnston, Ira Vaughn, Aubrey Wilson, M. A. Hays, George N. Rooker, E. B. Bull, A. L. Paulsen, Fred Newsom, Walter T. Helms, T. H. DeLap, Fred La Moine, E. M. Downer, O. R. Ludwig, Charles R. Renwick, W. W. Scott.

South'n Gal Tells Peril Of Hike Here

A sudden decision to visit her twin sister, Mrs. Herbert Goss of Richmond, sent Billy Davis, 20, southern gal, on an eleven-day hike from her home 180 miles from New Orleans, to this city. Just now Billy is serving edibles in a Point Richmond restaurant, saving up enough money to take the return hike with greater comfort than marked her journey here.

In the south she handled a plow with all the agility of a veteran, so its no stunt to handle a tray.

"I didn't know I was coming here until I started," she told interviewers yesterday.

She donned a pair of overalls, and with a dollar bill in her pocket and a small bundle of clothes under her arm, set out for California and adventure. At Beaumont, Texas, where a woman driver left her on the first day out, she surmounted her first difficulty when a hotel clerk refused to let her work for a room, but finally gave her a room for the evening.

The next day's hike took her to Del Rio, Texas, where she stopped with a family for eleven days while she worked in a restaurant.

Incidentally, a young chap by the name of Perry Roberts, who also worked in the restaurant, last week proposed to Miss Davis in a letter. But she declined, preferring to live in California.

With money in her pockets she started out again and hitch-hiked to the coast. Twenty miles out of Santa Barbara, walking on the rail road ties, she got her first real scare when she heard a stealthy "pit-pat" behind her. She fled to the protection of a railroad watch tower, where the agent told her she had probably been trailed by either a wildcat or coyote.

"In a year or two I'm going back," she declared, undaunted by the perils of her first trip.

Pythians Lay Plans For Birthday Fete

Plans for the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration to be held August 20 were discussed last night by Richmond lodge Knights of Pythias, in Brotherhood hall. D. S. DeLaney, A. S. Lilly and E. S. Geigold were chosen a committee to arrange for the celebration, which will include a program, dancing and a supper. Chancellor Commander E. S. Geigold presided over the business meeting. There will be no meeting of the lodge next Wednesday owing to the holiday.

QUILTING VETERAN

BY UNITED PRESS
CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., June 27.—Mrs. Josephine Fickel, 80, has just completed her 100th quilt and is at work on another. Despite her advanced years Mrs. Fickel tends to take a trip to Los Angeles where she will be the guest of friends.

There's Money In This

The matter of securing cheaper industrial water for Richmond was brought before a meeting of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce yesterday by Fred Parr, president of the Parr-Richmond Terminal corporation who declared this to be one of the greatest problems confronting industry in this city.

Rate Too High

He urged that a committee from the chamber of commerce wait upon the East Bay Public Utility district directors and get a definite understanding on the matter of cheap industrial rates for water users. Industries cannot afford to pay the 10,000 gallon rate when they use 100,000 gallons of water daily, he pointed out.

New Project Offered

Director T. H. DeLap called attention to the plans of the California Water Service corporation, successors to the Port Costa Water company, which is developing a source of industrial water in Black Jack Slough, on the Solano side of the Sacramento river. This water, according to DeLap will be available to industries from Antioch to Rodeo and will seriously affect Richmond industrial development unless cheap industrial water can be provided.

Up To Commission

J. F. Brooks, talking on the question, pointed out that the Standard Oil company used 10 per cent of the water supply used in Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and Richmond and that he was quite familiar with the problem of industry to secure cheap water. Furthermore he declared that the matter of rates was entirely in the hands of the railroad commission as it affected public utilities but that the East Bay Public Utility district, being municipally owned and controlled, was outside the jurisdiction of the railroad commission, and he therefore approved Parrs suggestion that Richmond get in immediate touch with the utility district directors.

Director George N. Rooker verified Brooks' statement and said that while the public utility fixed the rate it was subject to review by the railroad commission for its approval or disapproval.

S. F. Man Named Chief Of W. O. W.

OAKLAND, Cal. June 27.—(U.P.)—Woodmen of the World from nine western states today elected Peter S. Gilroy of San Francisco to succeed I. L. Black of Denver who has served as council for the past 25 years.

The election was one of the features of the convention here. Other officers were:

Head advisor, James Holland, Oakland; head banker, A. E. Sunderland, Fresno; head escort, J. W. Robinson, Trinidad, Colo.; head watchmen, H. E. Higson, Pocatello, Idaho; head sentry, M. S. ### COLORADO WOMAN IS VISITOR HERE

Mrs. Healey Butts of Pueblo, Colorado, is visiting in the home of her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Butts and her cousins, Mrs. Hattie Bazzell and Mrs. Bazzell's son, Robert, of 445 Thirty-seventh street. She expects to remain for some time and before her return she will visit relatives and friends in San Francisco. She also plans to take a trip to Los Angeles where she will be the guest of friends.

AND THEY HAVE A S. P. C. A.—Young girls and young men shamble their weary way in the dance marathon in Madison Square Garden, New York, trying to outlast each other for a $5000 prize. There is a society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals and years ago a law was passed stopping the six day bicycle race under conditions then existing, but now authorities claim they are powerless to stop the dance marathon. At the right, in a state of extreme exhaustion, appear Tommy Nolan and Anna King, champion Charleston couple of Pittsburgh. The faces tell the story of the physical agony which these dance fanatics have suffered.

CITY OFFICERS ATTEND CONFAB

Mayor Mattie Chandler, Councilman E. A. Martin and City Engineer Ed. Hoffman left here Tuesday night for Los Angeles, where they will attend the Port Authorities convention. Delegates will be in attendance from all ports in the United States having either private or municipal docks.

The confab is for the purpose of a general exchange of ideas on harbor improvement and handling.

Patent Matters Are Told Kiwanis

A. Schupp, patent attorney of San Francisco, was the speaker at the Kiwanis club luncheon yesterday, choosing for his subject "Inventions and You."

In an interesting talk, he told the members the necessary procedure to secure a patent after an invention had been perfected. F. C. Shallenberger was presiding officer and Charles Courtwright chairman of the day. Solos were sung by Kenneth Courtwright, accompanied by Emil Esola.

PICKS OWN TOMBSTONE

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 27.—(U.P.)—The tombstone of Captain of Police J. Frank Page, director of traffic here, has just been erected in Gravel Hill cemetery, near Palmyra. It weighs 16 tons and 11 men were required to place it in position.

Captain Page, although directing automobile traffic, does not like automobiles, and he said he wanted to invest $2,500 he had in something more lasting than a motorcar.

"I want something permanent for my money, and I got it," he remarked.

Adjournment Of Conclave Seen Tonight

HOUSTON, June 27.—(U.P.)—Hope that convention proceedings would be speeded up for a final adjournment Thursday night was expressed today by George R. Van Namee, Smith manager.

It had been contemplated that the convention would conclude Friday night by George R. Van Namee, hopes that the platform committee will report promptly Thursday. This would permit adoption of the platform and nomination of Governor Smith at the day session and the nomination for vice-president Thursday night.

"Everybody wants to get away as soon as possible, naturally," Van Namee said. "I have been very comfortable here, but we all have much to do and want to make the convention as short as possible. If the convention adjourned Thursday night after three days of sessions it would be probably the shortest convention ever held by the party."

Baptisti Lauded By Eagles Aerie

In appreciation for the work accomplished by Felix Baptisti during his term of office as president of the Richmond aerie of Eagles, the members at the last meeting of the lodge presented him with a handsome gold watch. The increased membership in the aerie is due largely to Baptisti. The presentation was made by President P. F. Barry.

PLANS NORTHWEST TRIP

RICHFIELD OIL PLANS SOUGHT

Definite information regarding local plans of the Richfield Oil company, recent purchasers of the E. L. Doheny interests, will be sought in Los Angeles by Mayor Mattie Chandler, City Engineer Ed Hoffman and Councilman E. A. Martin, it was disclosed yesterday.

The three city officials, in Los Angeles, to attend a convention, will confer with officials of the Richfield company in an effort to learn plans of the company as they effect the Richmond plant.

The chamber of commerce yesterday wired Mayor Mattie Chandler to secure all possible information and to find out whether the development on Point Potrero is to proceed and to what extent, as this development vitally affects Richmond's future.

Picnic Planned By St. Andrews

The Richmond St. Andrews society will hold a picnic in Alvarado park in August, the date to be decided later, according to plans made last night in the Richmond clubhouse. The St. Andrews society of Oakland will be the guests of the local society at the picnic and the committee in charge of arrangements is Thomas Watson, George Black and James Stuart.

A social hour of songs and stories followed the business meeting presided over by President W. J. MacDonald. A banquet was served by a committee headed by George Black and the evening closed with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

VISITS SISTER

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Ingalls of Calistoga are visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Downer at the Hotel Carquinez. Mrs. Ingalls and Mrs. Downer are sisters.

NEW YORKER IS HAILED WINNER BY ROOSEVELT

HOUSTON, June 27.—(U.P.)—Two dramatic fist fights in the Mississippi delegation here tonight during the demonstration for Smith threw the convention into turmoil for a few minutes. It took several police to quell the disorder that grew out of attempts by Smith backers to force the state's standard into the Smith ranks.

Senator Hubert Stephens was involved in one fight and a woman was the center of the other. She was Mrs. F. H. Hathorne of Hattiesburg, Miss., wife of one of the delegates.

HOUSTON, June 27.—(U.P.)—Governor Alfred Smith of New York was presented to the democratic national convention tonight as a candidate for the presidential nomination who can win.

"We offer one who has the will to win—who not only deserves success but commands it," Franklin Roosevelt said in nominating the governor. "Victory is his habit—the happy warrior—Alfred E. Smith."

In his opening sentence Roosevelt referred to the "governor of the state of New York" and received a loud cheer. But the great demonstration was held at the end of his address. Roosevelt, who has three times presented Al Smith as a presidential candidate at conventions, spoke this time with triumph awaiting just around the corner.

He emphasized Smith's qualities, particularly his leadership and ability to inspire intense public interest in government. "America needs not only an (Continued on Page 5)

SUICIDE NOTE READ TO JURY

"Suicide by poisoning" was the verdict reached by a coroner's jury last night in the case of A. E. Wingert whose body was found in the Berkeley hills Monday by four youths.

The inquest was conducted in the chamber of Justice of the Peace MacKinnon of El Cerrito under the direction of Coroner Aubrey Wilson.

A short suicide note written by Wingert to Mrs. Quigley, San Francisco, where Wingert made his home, was read by Wilson to the jury.

The note, in effect, stated that Wingert had lost his grip and did not feel equal to making a comeback. In his letter he commended Mrs. Quigley for being a true friend.

The San Francisco Masonic organization is understood to have got in touch with a brother of Wingert. Funeral arrangements are still pending here.

Mark Master Degree Is Conferred Here

I'd hate to live in one of them states where such things as tornadoes, floods, snowstorms and earthquakes are all 'heretofore unheard of.' Who recalls when we couldn't go to a party unless we promised to behave?

THE COOLIDGE ADMINISTRATION

Our democratic friends have been fond of enumerating the instance of President Coolidge failing to put over his programs in the senate of the United States. A large part of the gossip about Coolidge's ineffectuality comes from this source. But it seems now that the senate has not been so powerful.

Instead of one of its several aspiring members a chap from the administration has won the republican presidential nomination of the republican party and another member of the cabinet has been put in charge of the committee that will operate the campaign. At Houston this week the chances of the dignified senators naming a presidential candidate for the democratic party are painfully small. In all likelihood the nominee will be a governor who has never sat in the senate or even taken part in senatorial councils.

Four years ago a senator from Wisconsin sought to lead a third party movement which if successful in putting over its policies as well as its candidate, would have made a highly important co-ordinate branch of the American government subordinate to the all-powerful senate. That failed, and the administrative and judicial functions of the government were maintained on the parity with the legislative that was intended by the founders of the nation.

Harding went from the senate to the presidency. Coolidge had enjoyed no such association with the elders. His assumption of the presidency was accompanied by a shaking of gray heads in the cloak rooms of the upper house and followed by a campaign of belittlement.

But the maneuvers did not produce a candidate. They produced little but shadows. A popular choice will be made in both parties, and the senate that sits next year will have to get along with an outsider, with what consolation it can derive from the comforting presence of Charles Curtis of its body presiding.

A Chicago woman, the mother of triplets, is contemplating naming the boys Herman, James and Gunther, after the three latest transatlantic fliers. And probably by the time the boys grow up they will be able to fly across the North Atlantic in a Pullman.

What has become of the good old fashioned political days when the editor of the official republican organ and the editor of the official democratic organ wouldn't speak as they passed?

It's all right to talk about cheap politics but they're never cheap when you have to run in a primary.

Nothing looks quite as bleak as the banner of a defeated candidate the day after the primary.

Julie Says—

Milady of the Beach has many versions of the bathing suit to choose from. They are most attractive for on-the-beach or in-the-swim and are made up in many varieties than ever before. But the up-to-the-minute modern-type always includes a cape or coat in the ensemble. Today I am showing you a very feminine version worn by Marceline Day the popular star of the screen. It was most becoming to her type of beauty. Made of printed material it included a cape, a cape pillow and a beach robe. The bathing suit itself was in two pieces with a square neck and belted. And it had bloomers instead of panties.

BEAUTY

By LAURA LANE

I never have had much patience with these professional optimists who are always urging the world in general to "pick up your troubles in an old kit bag and smile, smile, smile," or to "smile and the world smiles with you," and so on.

There is nothing in all the world more maddening than to have some cheery soul try to face you with a p.p. when you want to be nice and unhappy. I insist that I have the right to be miserable when I want to, and I'm willing to allow others the same privilege.

However, in the role of a writer on beauty culture, I feel it my duty to warn you to the dire effects on your appearance of frowny g. There is nothing that will so soon spoil your charm of countenance as a wrinkly, frowny, forehead. And some people make a habit of frowning all the time. Not only do they wrinkle their forehead, but they wrinkle their nose and, on the whole, do everything they can to get the smoothness and firmness of their skin.

Next time you feel a frown coming, smooth it out quickly and do something comparatively harmless such as throwing a lamp across the room or tearing a dress. If you have had the frowning habit and the wrinkles are already deeply lined in your face, a daily massage with cold cream, followed by the application of a good skin cream, will help to repair the damage.

ACOP WORKED AND THOUGHT

Then he said, "We know other color secrets, too."

"Yes," said Father. "We alone of all peoples know the secrets of cherty-red, of sapphire-blue; of peacock-green; of sun-yellow. We weave beautiful silks and wools by hand. We sell these beautiful colored cloths—but we shall never, never tell how we made them."

"But you will tell me, won't you?" asked Acop. "Yes," said Father. "You and Ixla shall learn all we know. You shall pass on what we teach you to your children—but to no one else."

ACOP SAID

"There are other people who live in Guatemala besides us."

"Oh, yes," Father said. "Years ago the Spaniards came. They conquered us. They took our land. They settled here. Other white people came, too."

Father straightened himself. He looked far, far away. Then he looked at Acop. "My son Acop," he said, "We are a proud people—pure Aztec Indian. This was our country! We hate the people who have taken it from us. We never trust people of other lands."

"I love our people," said Acop, with a light in his eyes. "I love our Guatemala!"

Youth Walks 8000 Miles To College

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 27.—(U.P.)—Roberto Dominguez Carrillo, champion hiker of Mexico, who is walking nearly 8000 miles to school, passed through here recently.

Carrillo, who is but 17 years old, was on his way from Mexico City to New York. After a brief rest in the American metropolis he plans to hike back across the continent to Los Angeles, Calif.

Upon completion of his hike he will be awarded a scholarship to the University of Illinois by the National University of Mexico of which he formerly was a student.

He carries with him letters of recommendation from Dwight P. Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico and from the Mexican government.

He came to the United States to receive his elementary education, went through high school and then entered Carson-Newman to get his A. B. degree.

"WINGS" HELD ONE OF BEST SHOWS FILMED

The critical eye of the American picture audience is forcing absolute accuracy of detail in the filming of productions today, according to William Wellman, Paramount director. And, for that reason, the man who directed "Wings," which is now hailed as the greatest motion picture road-show ever filmed, surrounded himself with the best of technical advisors as he started work on the companion picture to "Wings," "The Legion of the Condemned," now showing at the California Theatre.

In spite of the fact that the young director lived the life of a flier at the front during the war as a member of the Lafayette Squadron, he insisted upon four other aviation experts being assigned to his unit because, as he believes, "everything must be correct if the production is to meet favor with American audiences."

Wellman called upon Captain Sterling C. Campbell, one of the foremost British aces during the war, for his assistance. In addition to helping with the technical details Campbell will play a part in the story which deals with a flying squadron of death.

Ted Parsons, a Detroit boy, who won honors at the French front States entered the war, likewise will assist in carrying out the details. Parsons, with Campbell, will also play a part in the story. Both were members of the French forces at the front for five years.

Other film features include, "Lupino Lane" in a comedy scream "Meet the Folks" Kinogram and Holly Nuts.

THEN AND NOW

SIXTY YEARS AGO
Heigh Ho! for the harness of staid, staid old. Here is one of the young mid-Victorian in a bell-shaped gown. This breath-taking creation was made of white muslin worn over pink silk chamois lace and pink silk buttons from the corsage. The jaunty head-piece of fancy straw dotted with black beads. The trimming consists of a garland of flowers and a small bow (the bird kind).

TODAY
And here we have a modish Miss of the amid-aviation period. A long, sleek, black of printed georgette in violet and rose on white, finished with a little pleated cape which is removable. A large hat of violet hair and ribbon. A breezy, cool creation for afternoon or evening. (If any of my readers have a preference for a period to be sketched of yesterday I wish you would write me care of your paper.)

WOMAN SELLER BEATS MEN TO LARGE ORDERS

Avoid mannerisms is, according to Norma Shearer, well-known screen star, the most difficult task of film acting.

"As soon as a star introduces into her own characterizations her own personal mannerisms most of the effectiveness of her performance is gone," says Miss Shearer who is playing the stellar role in "The Latest From Paris," a Metro-Goldwyn Mayer presentation now being shown at the Richmond Theatre.

"It is the duty of an actress to submerge her own individuality in the role she plays. Mannerisms are necessary if they aid the characterization. In this case they are not personal ones but done for the purpose of helping the role."

"It is hard to avoid your own individuality on the screen. We all have certain little gestures, and it is a problem, often, to have to say to myself 'I will keep my hands away from my chin' in order to avoid this gesture on the screen."

In "The Latest From Paris," Miss Shearer has the role of a traveling saleswoman who beats her male rivals to all the big orders from middle west shop owners. The leader of the conspiracy against her makes an effective role for Ralph Forbes who only learns the stars identity after he has revealed the existence and details of the conspiracy.

The picture was directed by Sam Wood from an original and clever screen play by A. J. Younger, scenarist of "Twelve Miles Out" and other successful films. The supporting cast includes George Sidney, Terrell Holt, Robert Roach, Margaret Landis, William Bakewell and others.

Other film features include a comedy scream "Meet the Folks" News and Travelogue.

TENDERLOIN

By Arline de Haas

SYNOPSIS
A satchel containing $2,000 has been stolen from a Mercer National Bank. Rose Shannon, escaping from the unbecoming attentions of Chuck White, finds the satchel in the street. A policeman arrests her on her way to return it. He takes her to the station. She is held as an accomplice when it is found that the satchel is empty. She is released a week later, but detectives trail her. Rose is met by Chuck, who on the pretext of befriending her takes her to the house of the Professor, leader of the gang of crooks involved in the robbery.

Perched on the long, carved table near the door leading into the Professor's private office, sat a girl, swinging her long, slender legs encased in sheer silk of the latest nude shade. Black patent leather shoes with thin spike heels gleamed in the soft illumination of the room. A squirrel coat, thrown back across the table, revealed a tight fitting dress of jade green, enhanced by numerous silver buttons down the front and along the sleeves. Heavy pendant earrings of emerald shone lustily against the yellowness of her heavy, bobbed hair.

"See anything yet?" Hemmaway

The Sparrow rose and began examining an old painting on the wall with most evident interest. He took it down, turned it over, looked for a signature.

"They're comin' in," Mug warned, as the click of the lock sounded. "Dibs across da street!" He turned quickly and stood beside the Sparrow. Together the two began playing their little game of art connoisseurs, while the Professor stood fondling the piece of ivory with loving care.

Rose and Chuck halted in the doorway, surveying this peaceful scene of collectors of the beautiful at work. It was all that Rose had expected. There was an air of peace and quiet about the place, and it had a sort of musty, dusty odor that rightfully belonged to such a shop. There, too, putting around his collection was a gentle-looking elderly man with glasses. For a moment his elderly man stared, then he set down the piece of ivory and hurried forward, lifting his glasses up and allowing them to rest on his forehead.

"Why, my dear boy!" the Professor greeted Chuck affectionately. "I didn't expect you back so soon. And this is the little girl, eh?" He turned a fatherly gaze on Rose, smiling kindly.

"Yes, this is Rose Shannon. Uncle—the girl I told you about. This is my Uncle Robert, honey," Chuck introduced the two.

"I'm glad to meet you, my dear," Hemmaway answered, taking Rose's hand in both his own, and patting it gently. "Chuck's already told me so much about you—but I see that he didn't half begin to do you justice."

"Oh, Professor," Rose laughed, looking up at Chuck diffidently. "My, but this is a lovely place."

Her gaze wandered about the room, taking in the old tapestries, the fine pieces of carving, the delicate cut vases. "Why, there's Mr. Sparrow," she exclaimed.

"At the sound of his name Sparrow turned and, at a sign from the Professor, came forward and shook hands with the girl. "Lo, kid," he greeted her. "Glad 't see you ag'in. How are ya?"

"I'm all right, Mr. Sparrow, thank you," Rose nodded.

"And this, my dear," the Professor motioned for the Mug to join the group. "Is my old friend, Dr. Mukowski—another collector, like myself."

"Please 't meetcha," the Mug, following the lead of his companions, held out a thick, heavy paw, and shook hands with the girl.

"How do you do, Dr. Mukowski?" I'm afraid I can't say it," Rose laughed, embarrassed.

"Aw, dat's all right," Mug assured Rose heartily, "I decided right away at a sign from the Professor, and taking up his study of the painting again."

"I guess we'll try to make that twelve-hirty train, Uncle," Chuck turned to Hemmaway. "That's about the best."

"It's five minutes past eleven, now," the Professor announced, drawing a large, gold watch from his pocket and holding it closer to his eyes to see the time. "Do you like the country, my dear?" he asked Rose.

"I just love it, Professor," Rose assented joyously. "I used to live in the country before I came to New York. We had a farm, out in Iowa. It's been almost a year since I've been away. But we had to sell out, after my father died—there was no one but my mother and me. And then she died, and I've been all alone ever since. Oh, it'll be just like heaven to get back to green grass and trees and things again."

"Well, then, I'm sure you'll love my sister's place," the Professor responded heartily. "When Chuck told me about you, I decided right away that after this—little trouble of yours that a bit of farm life would do you a world of good. I suggested it to Chuck, and then I wrote my sister, and she's more than glad to have you both. She's alone a great deal of the time—she's been a widow for some years."

"It sounds just wonderful," Rose breathed. "I can hardly believe it."

SHE WET HER FINGER WITH HER TONGUE AND RAN IT OVER HER EYEBROWS, AND THEN MOISTENED HER CARMINES LIPS. FINALLY, SHE EXTRACTED A CIGARETTE FROM A PACK, LIT IT, AND EXHALED A WHITE CLOUD OF SMOKE.

HUNT FOR BODY OF S. F. MEDICO IS ABANDONED

PITTSBURG, June 27.—Failing of success after an all day search of the body of Stanley L. Doyle, 25, San Francisco drugist, drowned in Suisun bay last Monday night when he accidentally fell from the sloop Gee Whiz. Scudero dragged for the body yesterday but said that inability of Doyle's companions to point out exactly where the drugist went down made recovery of the body highly improbable. Scudero has notified all fishermen operating out of Pittsburgh to be on the lookout for the body.

Doyle was a member of a party that comprised Frank C. Jordan, son of the secretary of state, Clarence Kline, a San Francisco broker, and William Whigh, al se of San Francisco. The party was on a vacation trip to Courtland, near Pittsburg Doyle slipped and fell into the bay. His companions made unsuccessful attempts to rescue him and in cruising about in the darkness the sloop ran aground, marooning the party until morning, when they made their way to Pittsburg to report the fatality.

Robinson Hot Favorite For Running Mate

HOUSTON, June 27.—(U.P.)—Vice presidential campaign managers are about the most active political personages here and have developed slogan manufacture to a fine art.

Senator Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas still is the favorite for second place on the ticket. He gained additional favor today with supporters of Governor Alfred E. Smith by his address when he took over the duties of permanent chairman of the convention.

Evans Woolen, Indianapolis banker, still was prominently mentioned.

Supporters of Senators Barkley of Kentucky have plastered "Embark with Barkley" signs all over the place and there is very little wall space that doesn't have a "Pick Berry" sign, used by friends of Major George L. Berry of Tennessee.

Other candidates whose friends are making active campaigns are Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, former governor of Wyoming, and Major General Henry T. Allen of Kentucky, who was commander of the American army of occupation on the Rhine.

The names of some presidential candidates are mentioned also for second place, chiefly those of Rep. Cordell Hull of Tennessee, and Senator George of Georgia.

Rumors continued to circulate that Senator James A. Reed of Missouri would withdraw from the presidential race on the theory that the Missouri senator's friends were preparing to push him as a vice presidential candidate.

These rumors were denied flatly by Reed's lieutenant, Frank J. Prince.

Educational Methods Are Argued Hotly

LONDON, June 27.—(U.P.)—"Mankind is becoming a race of omniscient babies," declared the Bishop of Durham in a recent address. "It possesses a mass of information but cannot think."

"On the contrary," there has never been a generation in the history of England which has had more discipline and training to think," retorted Sir Robert Blair in an interview in regard to the Bishop's views.

Thus a controversy was started between the opponents and the defenders of modern educational methods which quickly drew many of the country's best minds into the argument.

"This generation is rapidly becoming unable to handle the information poured upon it from all sides," the Bishop asserted.

"Young people show an increased desire to get a better education and the enlightened methods and points of view of the university authorities are meeting the situation effectively," declared Dr. Graham Little, M.P., for the University of London.

"All classes are now attending universities," he added, "and a northern university reported last year that 80 per cent of their enrollment were from classes like miners."

In spite of these defenses, it is understood that the Bishop of Durham clings to the opinion that the provisions of information has outrun the training of the intelligence.

"This state of affairs," he warned his hearers, "carries a considerable risk both for ourselves and for the coming generations."

As Democratic Convention Was Called to Order

NEW YORKER IS HAILED WINNER BY ROOSEVELT

applied to any candidate for office in America.

This set off a terrific demonstration, marked by several fights among southern delegates. For a moment a real riot seemed imminent and police were helpless to quell the struggling factions grappling in the aisle directly in front of the speakers' platform.

Soon order was restored, however, and practically every state except Alabama, the home of Senator Heflin, was represented in the parade of Standards around the hall.

Chairman Robinson warned the convention that it must be orderly. It was the first real release of enthusiasm at the convention and except for the handful of dissenters the convention took occasion to register its noisy approval of the doctrine of religious liberty.

In addition to Governor Smith, seven other candidates were scheduled to be presented formally tonight for the consideration of the convention.

They were:

Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri.

Rep. Gordell Hull of Tennessee.

Senator Walter F. George of Georgia.

Evans Woolen of Indiana.

Former Senator Gilbert Hitchcock, of Nebraska.

Former Senator Albee Pomerene of Ohio.

Rep. W. A. Ayers of Kansas.

Although apparently destined to receive only the compliment of a recorded vote of their own respective states and a few other anti-Smith delegates, these seven supplementary candidates were going through the formalities, but with the knowledge that Governor Smith would be the nominee.

Some of these candidates may authorize withdrawal of their names at the last moment to help

George McGill, of Wichita, Kas., in nominating Rep. William A. Ayers of Kansas, said in part: "The man we propose is one of the most outstanding democrats of the day—he is a man of such extraordinary ability, statesmanship and integrity as to measure up to the highest position within the gift of the American people."

"Four years ago in the pre-convention campaign he was recommended as presidential number by the late great leader of democracy W. J. Bryan and by numerous publications and men of note. People of all classes of the eighth Kansas congressional district have demonstrated their faith in William A. Ayers by electing him to the national congress six times with majorities ranging from 14,000 to 18,000, and the people of Kansas are solidly behind him for president."

Placing the name of former Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock in nomination tonight Eugene D. O'Sullivan paid Hitchcock high tribute and added to it praise from the late William Jennings Bryan. He said in part:

"On behalf of the democrats of the state of Nebraska, I wish to present to this convention as a presidential nominee the name of Gilbert M. Hitchcock."

"He was born and reared in Omaha and bears in his native state and in the nation at large an enviable reputation for moral and political rectitude and he has a character in keeping with his reputation."

solidly the party front for the campaign.

The general situation appeared unchanged tonight. Senator Robinson of Arkansas, permanent chairman of the convention, appeared the strong favorite for the vice-presidential nomination and his selection seemed to many delegates almost as inevitable as that of Governor Smith.

by the national group of judges of each nation at the old Hague Arbitration tribunal. The nomination of candidates was entrusted to these groups rather than to the governments themselves in order to keep the nominations free from political influence.

Although the United States is not a member of the court, its national group at the Hague Arbitration Tribunal has the right to make two nominations owing to the fact that the United States is one of the nations mentioned in the annex to the covenant of the League of Nations.

Moore Seat In League Is Much Desired

GENEVA, June 27.—(U.P.)—Nominations are being received almost daily at the secretariat of the League of Nations for the successor of John Bassett Moore, as one of the judges of the League's Permanent Court of International Justice at the Hague.

As there are now 52 states members of the court, and as each has a right to nominate two candidates for the vacant judgeship, it is expected that there will be a list of at least 100 candidates for the place.

The election will take place during the September assembly of the league of nations, but the assembly does not have the only say on the question.

Under the election system provided for the court the league assembly and the council must meet and vote separately, and both bodies must continue voting until each has elected the same candidate by a majority vote. It has already happened in the past that a candidate has repeatedly been elected by the assembly but has failed to get the majority vote of the council and has thus been defeated.

The nominations now being received for the vacancy are made

Huge Display Of Crystals To Be Made

CENTERVILLE, S. D., June 27.—(U.P.)—More than 23,000 specimens of Black Hills and Bad Lands crystals and fossils belonging to E. P. Hoard of Centerville, S. D., will be displayed this summer at Rapid City, S. D., after having been hidden in Hoard's basement for 28 years.

Hoard's collection has remained in his basement for nearly three decades because in 1898 people in Sioux City and Omaha refused to become interested and would not view his collection of crystals and fossils.

Hoard collected the specimens near Hot Springs, S. D., between 1898 and 1899. With a tallow candle as his only light, he wormed his way through dark caves and deep crevices where some of his most valuable specimens were secured.

In 1897 it was suggested he take the collection to the World's Exposition, which was to be held in Omaha the following year. Consequently he and a friend built a house boat at the mouth of the Fall River, loaded the collection and waited for the spring rise to float them down the Fall and Cheyenne rivers to the Missouri.

The trip was more difficult than they expected, however, and consumed several weeks, during which they were left high and dry on the river bottom for days at a time waiting for another rise to carry them toward the Missouri. After months of travel the boat reached Sioux City, long after the exposition at Omaha had closed. No one was interested in the display and a Omaha two young men received the same treatment. There the collection was boxed and sent home, where it remained until recently.

Technical instruction is now being given to the various units scattered through the country by officers and experts of the regular air force. The command of the new aerial defense corps will be given to a Black-shirt general who served in the aviation corps during the war.

ENTIRE FLEET BEGINS SEARCH FOR EXPLORER

OSLO, June 27.—(U.P.)—A fleet of thirty arctic vessels was instructed by the Norwegian government today to make a diligent search of the North Sea for Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole, who has not been heard from since he left Tromsø June 18 in a French seaplane with five companions to search for General Umberto. Noble.

Unverified reports have been circulated that Amundsen was seen on the arctic ice attempting to repair his disabled seaplane. One came from Murmansk, quoting a seal hunter. Another came from Tromsø, saying a fisherman had seen the seaplane at 6 p. m. June 18, southward of Bear Island flying near the water apparently heavily overloaded. The third report was an intercepted Archangel wireless statement that an unnamed Norwegian seal hunting vessel had sighted Amundsen on an ice floe south east of Northwest land June 20.

The manager of the Geophysical Institute of Tromsø today ordered the personnel of the Bear Island Radio station to make a search on skills because of the possibility that Amundsen reached Bear Island.

Major Trygve Gran will head a new Norwegian expedition to search for Amundsen, the money having been collected by newspapers here.

Gran believes, however, that if Noble saw smoke from the bag of the dirigible Italia it had been carried away by a gale following the crash on the ice the seven men in the envelope probably are dead.

A report from Rome quoting Noble's report said the smoke probably was caused by fire in the oil or gasoline tank of the envelope.

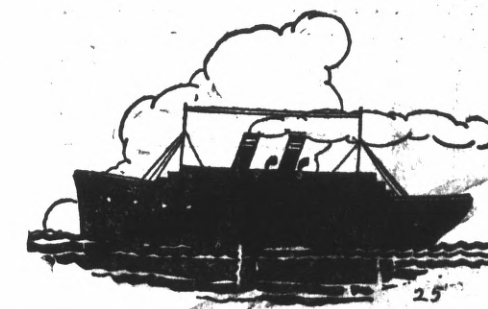

The chances of the three men who left Noble's encampment to walk to land, including Prof. Fenn Malmgren, Swedish physicist. To survive on the arctic without weapons are very small, in Gran's opinion.

RAILWAY TEAM DEFEATED BY DOUGALLS 7-1

The Dougalls after a two-week lay-off showed up for their game last night with the Santa Fe and won by a score of 7 to 1. Pinto twirled for them and held the Santa Fe to two hits, the fanned two and walked three. The Santa Fe could not find him. Whenever they clouted a ball, labeled a base hit, one of the Dougalls men was there. Even when they landed on base, they could not score but got caught on base.

Christiani had an off day, and could not land a hit and made two blunders that allowed three runs for the Dougalls. The other two errors made during the game were by Gualdoni and Swanson. Frank Peacock pitched for the Santa Fe and held the Dougalls to six hits although he walked five and hit three. Zimmerman twice. He struck out three.

But-breaking was the feature of yesterday's game. Both Tamm and Taylor cracked two perfectly good slugging sticks in their mad frenzy for basehits.

Now that the Dougalls are back again all they have to do is to overcome the drop made by their two forerunners to win their next two games from the Maliks. That would throw them back into first place.

This afternoon the Maliks and Sannies clash.

Seals Virtually Cinch Pennant

SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—(U.P.)—The San Francisco Seals virtually clinched the title of the first half of the coast league today while reducing the Angels to the rank of "also rans" by a 2 to 0 score.

Although the second place Hollywood Stars remained three games behind the Seals by defeating the Missions 7 to 5, only a startling upset could overcome that difference with five games remaining.

Averill's home run in the first inning with Johnson on base gave the Seals a victory. A double by Heath, Hollywood first baseman, scored the winning run in the fifth inning.

Seattle easily beat Oakland by a 5 to 1 score, but Sacramento had to score two runs in the eighth inning a break a 5 to 5 tie and beat Portland, 7 to 5.

SANNIES JOIN COUNTY LOOP, PLAY SUNDAY

Phil Jones' Richmond Sannies have entered the Inter-County baseball league, taking the place of the Alvarado team which recently dropped out after losing the first game. The Sannies will start out with no victories and one defeat, but have a chance to improve their standings since the Alvarado club had played four games less than other clubs in the league.

One of the postponed games will be played against San Pablo which leads the league with three wins and no defeats. Other postponed games will be played against Decimo, Pon Honor and the Italian club.

The Italian game probably will be played on the local grounds this Sunday, and Jones is attempting to bolster up weak spots in his lineup.

Following are the league standings:

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

Lomski's Record Vindicates His "Heart". It is fortunate for Leo Lomski, Pacific Coast light heavyweight, that he showed plenty of heart in all of his New York appearances, for otherwise the boys would be inclined to seriously question the manner in which he fouled out against Pete Latzo, Scranton, Pa., miner, in the fifth round of their scrap at Ebbets Field.

At the time Lomski fouled Latzo in the fifth heat, Latzo was cutting him all over the ring after landing a right to the jaw that had Lomski walking along the suburbs of Queer street.

Quite a few of the fistic intelligentsia were of the opinion that Lomski had taken the easiest way out under the stress of punishment, but the fellow's fine record refutes this view.

Although there was no doubt of the illegality of the punch that crippled Latzo, there is nothing to hint that it was deliberate on Lomski's part.

As Tommy Loughran pointed out, the Coast fighter possibly was laced by the blows to the head and had no clear idea of where he was parking his punches. This often happens in the ring, and in view of Lomski's past performances this view must prevail in any cool analysis of the scrap.

The only way in which a true line can be gained on the relative merits of these two rugged battlers is to toss them in again, preferably at fifteen rounds.

Up to the moment the fight ended honors were about even and they were putting up a rattling good fight. I don't think the fans will object to kicking in 5.50 for ringside seats to an encore.

Although the fight was marred by a foul, the slam bang nature of the hostilities should serve to revive interest in the sport generally and in the light heavyweight division particularly.

If any one emerged from this fight with brighter laurels that individual is Pete Latzo. He did everything that was asked of him and he is rapidly becoming a popular idol because of his honesty in performance.

Latzo put up a whale of a fight against Tommy Loughran and he put up even a better fight against Lomski.

This former Scranton coal miner who won and lost the world's welterweight championship before graduating into the 175 pound class, is fighting better than ever before. The extra twenty-five pounds he has picked up since dropping the welterweight championship to Joe Dundee of Baltimore has made him as strong as a bull.

For sheer gameness he ranks with the most courageous in the ring. His awkwardness his ability to take a punch and still press forward—these are some of the things that make him a tough nut to crack.

The bigger fellows find him as bothersome as a toothache and twice as persistent. And the fans who pay to see a fight find Latzo an honest, pleasing performer.

He has the stolid gameness of a wounded bull, and he is apparently immune to punishment or fright. Loughran's reputation didn't faze Pete a bit, and Lomski's advantage in weight and strength simply rolled off Pete's knif.

No fighter is going to bull Latzo out of a decision. He keeps swarming in, heaving punches right up to the closing bell, regardless of the opposition. That is why the crowds who failed to give him a tumble as welterweight champion now are raving over this pleasant-mannered youngster with the heart of a lion.

Latzo is dead game and the fans like the game 'uns in any racket.

Fugazy's $5.50 Tops Prove Knockout. Humbert J. Fugazy, experimenting with popular prices scaled from $5.50 down, found that the fans responded to the more reasonable assessment.

It is to be hoped that both Fugazy and Rickard will stick to the popular priced show, for otherwise boxing is going to spill it for the full count.

The fans are fed up on paying from $15 to $25 for ringside seats for fights that are worth about 67 cents, including war tax and transportation to and from. The six hundred millionaires can spend that sort of dough, but they are not the ones who support boxing year in and year out. They attend only the big fights and when the attend they want the front row seats or they won't play.

If any reconstruction work is to be done in boxing the short cut to that reconstruction will be along the popular priced highway.

Famous Cow Girl To Be In Roundup

LAKEVIEW, Ore., June 27.—(U.P.)—A wiry cow-girl who late last fall emerged triumphantly in a dramatic murder trial, will return to Lakeview this fall to win her way into the affections of thousands of visitors expected here for a big railroad celebration and annual round-up—Sept. 1 to 3.

Officials of the celebration committee announced that Lorena Trickey, cowgirl and rodeo star, will be offered a contract to appear here during the three rodeo-railroad celebration days.

It was in Lakeview that Lorena was acquitted of murdering J. P. (Slim) Harris, the handsome cowman of whom she said: "I loved him better than life itself," and

RISKO POUNDS OUT VICTORY OVER GODFREY

EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, June 27.—(U.P.)—Outweighed nearly 45 pounds and conceding his opponent 6 inches in height, Johnny Risko staged a sensational comeback in the last round to win the decision over George Godfrey, giant negro in a ten round bout before 20,000 spectators here tonight.

Unable to get inside the big negro's long arms in the early rounds, Risko kept everlastingly at Godfrey until he began to pound his punches past the negro's defense.

Risko scored heavily with his left in the late rounds, making Godfrey blink his eyes and clinch every time he saw the blow coming.

Godfrey piled up a good lead in the early rounds, driving Risko around the ring with a whirlwind body attack, but he slowed down after the fifth round and for the rest of the fight clinched and clawed at Risko who looked like a pygmy in comparison to the black giant.

There were no knockdowns although Godfrey used his weight and strength to wrestle Risko around and several times in a clinch almost tossed the smaller boxer to the canvas.

CHAMBER PUTS OKAY ON S. P. SPAN PROJECT

The following resolution was adopted by the directors of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, meeting at the Hotel Carquinez yesterday:

WHEREAS, the Southern Pacific Company has announced its plans for building a double-track railroad bridge across Suisun Bay, taking the place of the present slow and crude ferry now operating between Port Costa and Benicia;

AND WHEREAS, the building of this bridge will cut down transcontinental freight service in and out of Richmond by two hours and will save twenty minutes in transcontinental passenger train service as well as cutting down the time schedule between points north of Richmond and the East Bay to Oregon and Washington;

And Whereas this bridge will prove a tremendous economic benefit to Richmond and its people as well as the entire East Bay district, industrial and commercial;

Therefore, be it resolved that the Richmond Chamber of Commerce heartily approves this project and extends its congratulations to the Southern Pacific Company for its foresight and enterprise in thus improving its transcontinental train service.

Be it further resolved, that the Richmond Chamber of Commerce hereby requests the Secretary of War and any other public body having jurisdiction, to approve the project so that the benefits therefrom may be enjoyed at the earliest possible moment.

Adopted this 27th day of June, 1928. Directors Richmond Chamber of Commerce.

OAKLAND GIRL FACES MURDER CHARGE TODAY

OAKLAND, June 27.—(U.P.)—Erna Janoschek, 17, was accused today of first degree murder of a year old baby left in her care and will be arraigned Thursday.

According to the police the girl admitted strangling the infant to death because the baby's mother made her work too hard.

The high school girl was first accused of the crime by a coroner's jury but through it all she appeared to remain calm and laughed many times during the day.

She was kept busy talking about the crime. Allister questioning her almost constantly but they failed to uncover any new details. Erna will be arraigned before Police Judge Pyrell who will first endeavor to determine if her age is actually 17, and will require the attention of juvenile authorities.

According to police the girl maintained her act was for revenge on the mother.

Word has been received in Richmond of the death of Miss Gertrude Collins, 24, sister of Rev. Harold Collins, former assistant pastor of St. Marks church, who died suddenly Tuesday afternoon on a boat leaving San Francisco for Seattle. Death is believed due to heart trouble from the excitement of farewells of friends.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. J. V. Collins; a sister, Miss Eleanor Collins and three brothers, Joseph, James and Rev. Harold Collins, now assistant pastor of the Star of the Sea church in San Francisco. ## Georgia Solon Warns He Will Oppose Wets

HOUSTON, Tex., June 27.—(U.P.)—Senator George of Georgia issued a statement today serving notice he would stand the floor against a "wet plank" if one is presented to the convention by Democratic platform committee. He also announced his name would remain before the convention until a presidential candidate was nominated.

"I have from the first insisted that prohibition should not be made the single issue before the convention," he said. "I have nevertheless declared my unalterable opposition to the committee of the party to a wet program.

"If in view of all of the developments the effort is made to convert the party into an anti-prohibition party I shall not hesitate to take my place on the Georgia delegation and give active assistance to its defeat."

Scouts Stay Aloft As Per Lindbergh

FORT BRAGG, Calif., June 27.—Two Fort Bragg Boy Scouts "went to Paris" on top of a redwood tree. The boys admired Colonel Lindbergh and resolved to emulate him. They built their plane from a box and perched it on the redwood tree.

They had the famous Lindbergh ham sandwich provisions when they started the flight. They stayed aloft exactly the same length of time it took "Lindy" to span the Atlantic.

"At 11 a. m. Cold as heck" and similar messages came floating down to Boy Scouts below.

Fight Starts When Anti-Smiths Resent Demonstration By Aides

By THOMAS L. STOKES.

HOUSTON, Tex., June 27.—The fair complexion of Democratic delegates broke out with a rash at the second day's session, but the disease was checked without serious results.

A demonstration for Governor Alfred E. Smith, set off by the speech of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, permanent chairman, at the first session today, precipitated counter-fights in Southern Anti-Smith delegations in various parts of the convention hall.

Smith majority in these delegations forcefully contested attempts of a few Smith men to carry the state banners into the delegates' section.

In most cases, the belligerent Smithites won their way, but not without fistuffs which brought strong-arm officers to the scene.

The episode recalled similar dramatic scenes in Madison Square Garden in 1924, but lacked the undercurrent of intense bitterness of that occasion.

Senator Robinson's speech was interrupted several times by sporadic cheers. Then he delivered this sentence in his booming voice: "Jefferson rejoiced in the provision of the Constitution that no religious test shall ever be required of a candidate."

That was the cue for the Smith people, who took it as an insult to their candidate. A great cheer swept the hall, then the bands began to play, and one by one the delegations fell in line and started marching about the hall.

It seemed that first it was to be a completely anonymous demonstration. Everybody appeared in good humor, laughing and shouting.

The few Southern Smith supporters were caught by the fever of rejoicing. They moved over toward the banners of their states. Then the fighting began.

In various delegations, particularly in those of North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama, the backbone of the old solid South was used.

Force attempted vainly in most cases, to stop the fighting which became thick and heavy just in front of the speaker's platform.

Kuykendall increased his staff by twenty as a result of the row among some southern delegations today. He ordered a half dozen of his "finest" to take station before the speakers' platform ready to separate any quarreling delegates.

BAD FEELING CROPS OUT ON DEM. PLANK

By PAUL R. MALLON.

United Press Staff Correspondent

HOUSTON, June 27.—(U.P.)—Bad feeling between wets and dries cropped out in the platform committee hearings over the prohibition plank, but when the committee adjourned late today the moderates said they believed the near fist fights and uproar would not affect their peace program.

Dissension reached a critical stage when Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland and Senator Carter Glass of Virginia started for each other with fists raised and were separated just before they clashed.

Police with exposed side arms were stationed thickly throughout the arena to prevent a recurrence of the fights which occurred at the morning session upon the mention of the religious question.

A resolution in memory of the late Vice-President Marshall was presented by Charles A. Greason of Indiana and unanimously adopted.

After the Marshall resolution was read, the band with muted instruments played "Nearer My God to Thee."

The tremendous throng, which by this time filled every inch of this huge tabernacle, rose silently in memory.

The widow in black, wearing the badge of an Indiana delegate, stood with bowed head.

Joseph Daniels, secretary of the navy under President Wilson and a protégé of the late William J. Bryan, offered a resolution of eulogy to the late Commoner, absent for the first time in 52 years from a Democratic National convention.

PITTSBURG IS THREATENED BY PEATLAND FIRE

PITTSBURG, June 27.—After burning for three days, a peat land fire on an area west of city limits, near Tenth and Montezuma streets, was still under way today, repulsing persistent efforts by the Pittsburg fire department and a crew of the Sacramento "Short Line" workers to prevent its spreading.

The railroad has directed the digging of a trench paralleling the right of way which is in the path of the fire, and will fill this trench with water upon its completion.

The nature of the peat land fire, which burns under ground, makes efforts to combat it extremely difficult, probably the one effective means of extinguishing the flames being to flood the entire area. This would require constant pumping for several days.
